

Islam and the Geopolitics of the Middle East

Attend a graduate-level seminary course on Islam and the Geopolitics of the Middle East. Learn how to effectively include some of the 1.8 billion Muslims in your commitment to the Great Commission!

Dr. Nabeel Jabbour has taught this course at Western Seminary in Portland, OR, Columbia International University in Columbia, SC, and currently teaches this course at Denver Seminary and Dallas International University. Dr. Jabbour is also now teaching this course at his home to those who will do the required readings and commit to attend 44 in-class hours.

The course covers Muhammad and the Qur'an, Folk Islam, Islamic Fundamentalism, the Israel/Palestine conflict, Christendom vs. the Kingdom of God, Unleashing the Gospel, and Contextualization.

A physician who took the course wrote:

- This was one of the most influential educational experiences I have had.

Another person who took the course wrote:

- Thank you again for this challenging and enjoyable course. I would take it again in a heartbeat.
